Fishing Trip Enjoyed By Harrison Families

Mr. & Mrs. John Harrison, Walter and Mrs. Doris Bryan, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Harrison, and children and Sgt. Harrison spent last week at Lake Lanier, Fla., on a fishing trip. They brought home enough fish to fill the Harrison and Bryan refrigerators as proof of their fishing success.

Capt. Harrison is stationed at Camp Canby, Ala. and is on 15-day leave. Sgt. Harrison, stationed at Boise, Idaho, Air Base, is on 30-day furlough. It was the first time the brothers had been together in five years.

PURINA PULLET RACE
A race is underway at Morrow, La. It was announced this week by Luke Lubert, Morrow, manager.

The "race" as Jake Lubert explains, will actually be a feeding demonstration using laying hens and all flocks in this community are invited to take part. Each of the pullets has been given a number for identification and the first pullet to lay an egg will win the "race."

During the race, the pullets will be given the opportunity to judge the pullets and from that indicate which pullet will be the first to produce an egg.

During the race, the pullets are being fed for growth, they will be fed Purina Growers.

"Normally, the pullets can be expected to go into production when they are 20 weeks old," J. K. Lubert said. "The growing pullets let the public see how developed over a period of many years by Purina Research. It is a feeding contest to see if the condition necessary for a long and profitable egg production."

Miss Elberta Harris, county school attendance officer, attended the race at Morrow, Ala. at Troy Monday. She said there was good attendance.

Little Misses Mary Jernigan, Frances Coleman and Annie Howell displayed all of Troy have been guests of Master James Rainor for several days.

Mark Indicates Flood of 1929 Might Not Have Been 'Biggest'

Lamar Carroll who resides in the old Jesse Rowe home south of Elba near the Pea River, said Monday the house had recently been painted. During the operation, he noticed an old high water mark on the house which was placed there during the Abraham Lincoln administration in 1864.

Mrs. Gusie Hutchison called the writer's attention to this old high water mark. She said her mother, Mrs. T. P. Windham, used to speak of this old mark. It shows that in 1864 the water reached a stage six feet higher than it did in 1929.

According to Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Windham lived in the house as a young woman and by 1864 the house had been reached the old mark. During the 1929 flood, the water was one foot above the floor.

It is difficult to explain how flood waters could possibly go six feet higher than in 1929. However, the old mark on the house bears witness of record-breaking high water and The Clipper would like to have some of the older residents explain the difference.

In discussing the matter, M. T. Russ offered an explanation that may have some merit. He said in the old days great numbers of logs were floated down the river in high water. He said he had seen a log in 1864. The logs might have jammed, causing the water to rise. The water level in 1929 was not as high as the water level in 1864.

The Clipper will welcome information concerning the high water mark of 1864. Which has survived the ravages of time on the old Rowe home.

TOBE RHODES GETS ALL DRESSED UP TO ROLL DOWN PEA RIVER LEVEE
Tobe Rhodes just can't stay out of print. His wife, Willie, reports that he came home recently and gave orders for her to get out his Sunday best as he had an important engagement to fill. She said she laid out his best suit, shirt, tie, etc. and the high water really rolled down. A little later, Mrs. Rhodes was horrified when Tobe appeared all scratched up, bloody as the proverbial stuck pig and his clothing "in a mess." His explanation was that for some reason, he went out on the levee and was lastly knocked over and rolled from the top to the bottom. Mrs. Rhodes said she felt sorry for the poor boy, but he looked so pitiful, she had to laugh. We did not learn as to whether or not Tobe was able to keep his important engagement.

The Lions came back with a flock of markers in the same inning but could not catch up. The second game was a run-away affair. Dorsey Trailers overwhelmed the Vets. With good pitching and heavy hitting, Dorsey was never in danger and won as they pleased. The Vets have been unable to win a game so far.

On Monday night the improved Dorsey-Jaycee team won close one from the high school, 7-6. The Independents amassed a good lead in the early innings but the Jaycees rallied to give their old opponents a scare.

The Dorsey-Jaycee game was postponed on account of the Masonic meeting. It will be put on as part of a triple-header Thursday night. The other two games are Lions vs. Independents and Jaycees vs. Vets. Monday night's games completed the first half of the schedule, the team standings as follows:

Dorsey 4, lost one; Lions 2, second with three wins and two losses each; high school, two wins and three losses. The Vets have lost five in a row.

Thursday night's games will mark the beginning of the second half of the schedule.

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

WRITE-UP APPRECIATED
Some people are born great, some achieve greatness, while others have greatness thrust upon them. I feel that I have fallen into the latter category.

I greatly appreciate the elaborate writeup which appeared in Sunday's issue of the Montgomery Advertiser. It mentioned a few highlights concerning my "princetorial" career, especially since I came to Elba about 24 years ago.

However, the Advertiser interviewer misstated a few figures I gave him in regard to my experience during the great flood of March, 1929. Instead of remaining at the phone in the Elba office until the water was shoulder deep, it should have been waist deep. And instead of swimming two blocks, I swam only part of a block from the Clipper office to the May Building corner. There I was able to walk to the stairway up to the second story of that building where I stayed until Friday evening.

My experience in reporting various occurrences has taught me to treat reports by interviewers with leniency and to have a forgiving spirit. I am a new believer in the adage, "Mistakes will occur even in the best regulated families."

When I first glanced at what was purported to be my picture in the Advertiser, I thought of bringing suit for libel, but then I thought of another adage: "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

WISDOM PUTS ON NEW FRONT
The front of the Wise Cleaners & Clothiers store on the east side of the square is being torn away and replaced by modern show windows. The new arrangement will afford more light in the store in enable the management to display stocks to a better advantage.

NEW WELL
Dick Dorman, city water superintendent, stated this week his new tested well was pumped for ten consecutive hours at the rate of more than 500 gallons per minute without exhausting the supply or lowering the water level to any appreciable degree. According to Mr. Dorman, the well is supplied with water from three different "veins" of water.

New Commandment
Lesson for June 29, 1952
"Which of all the commandments... is the most important? They... asking this question century after century, and no one ever quite answered it before Jesus. It can only be a puzzling question so long as you think of the laws of God as a list of rules. If they were a set of municipal regulations or by-laws of a club, they are not like that. They are the laws of a person. When your time is flat it doesn't make much difference where it is. If it is flat in one place it might as well be flat in a dozen places. The Ten Commandments are all linked together, indeed one can say much more than that. All the laws of God, everything God desires and orders man to do, it is all linked in one."
Thou Shalt Love
JESUS drew out the old, old question about the "great commandment" was not absolutely original. Shortly before his time, a smart, sleek young man, so the story goes, had come to a great Rabbi named Hillel and said to him: "The law is much too long and complicated. Can you tell me the law while I stand on one foot?"
"Yes," said Hillel. "Lift one foot up. Now, Love the Lord thy God with all the heart, a smart, sleek young man, so the story goes, had come to a great Rabbi named Hillel and said to him: "The law is much too long and complicated. Can you tell me the law while I stand on one foot?"
"Yes," said Hillel. "Lift one foot up. Now, Love the Lord thy God with all the heart, a smart, sleek young man, so the story goes, had come to a great Rabbi named Hillel and said to him: "The law is much too long and complicated. Can you tell me the law while I stand on one foot?"

Fuel Ratio
Railroads require three-eighths as much fuel as trucks to haul the same load the same distance, and one-third as much fuel as an airplane.

Awarded Over 60 Patents
Herman Franch, inventor of the "hot-water" process which is used to mine underground sulphur deposits in Louisiana and Texas, died at the time of his death in 1914 over 60 patents, most of them commercial successes in the sulphur and petroleum industries.

Telegraph Demonstrated
On February 21, 1858, Samuel Morse demonstrated his first telegraph for the President of the United States. This demonstration resulted in the passage of a bill appropriating $30,000 for determining the telegraph's practicality.

Cold New York
New Yorkers often shiver in winter far more severe than those in Reykjavik, Iceland's capital. An arm of the warm Gulf Stream contributes to the city's 32-degree average in January, the year's coldest month.

Good Supply
War, and the threat of war, are earmarked programs, serve to make it clear how fortunate America is to have an abundant productive coal industry.

Ancient Tradition
During the reign of Charles II of England, ambergris, musk and sandalwood were powdered, mixed together, and enclosed in small bags to be worn on the person or used as sachets among clothing.

Bears Speedy
"Grizzly bears can attain a speed of 35 miles an hour," says a Canadian nature authority after recovering his breath.

Time of Year
28% of all cameras, 37% of all pipes, 53% of all toys and games, 40% of all watches, 38% of all cigars and 28% of all candy sold annually are sold in November.

Trailer Families
More than 1,000,000 Americans live in trailers today, most of them staying in the 7,000 trailer parks which provide parking space, electric connections, and sanitary facilities. A greater percentage of trailer owners use their "mobile homes" as year-round residences than ever before.

Non-food Items—Items that normally are sold by hardware, variety, drug and tobacco stores—constitute approximately 62% of the sale of all grocery stores.

Bridge
"No, mum, her friends always washed their hands before they came."

Tough One
Bob Hawk tells about the fellow who was always complaining about being broke. A friend asked why he didn't keep some of his salary instead of giving it all to his wife each week.

Behind the Point
A teacher took her first-grade class to a dairy where a guide showed the children through the entire plant, explaining the whole process. The tour over, the guide asked if anyone had any questions. One little girl raised her hand. "Did you notice," she asked, "that I've got on my new snow suit?"

Old Fashioned
Missus to her new servant—"Why Bridget, this is the third time I've had to tell you about the finger-bowls. Didn't the lady you last worked for have them on the table?"

Can Tomatoes Who's for Salads

In home-canning tomatoes, the utility of regular pack, in which the tomatoes are pressed down tight, is all right for most purposes, but a few whole packed tomatoes come in handy. When chilled and cut in quarters, they add much to tomato aspic and other convalescent salads.

Regardless of how you are going to pack tomatoes, use only clean, fresh, sound, firm, red-ripe tomatoes for canning. Every tomato should be washed, rinsed, and drained before canning. To seal tomatoes without over-cooking, dip in a square of cheesecloth or wire basket and hold in boiling water about one-half minute. Dip in cold water and drain before cutting out the core. (Cut deep enough to get it out.)

After the core is out, slip on the skin and drop tomato into a hot Ball Mason Jar. If whole tomatoes are wanted, pack them closely without crushing and add hot tomato juice or water to cover. If using utility pack, press the tomatoes down tight until juice runs from them. One teaspoon salt is usually added to each quart of tomatoes, although tomatoes keep as well without salt.

Don't forget to leave almost 1/2 inch of headspace when filling the jar. Run a knife down between the tomatoes and the jar to break up air bubbles. More liquid may be needed to fill space from jars of whole packed tomatoes. Don't bother to add more to the utility pack.

Wipe tops and threads of jars clean. Then apply your Ball Dome Caps according to instructions printed on the box. Process tomatoes in a boiling water bath, 35 minutes for whole tomatoes and 45 minutes for a utility pack.

In home-canning tomatoes, the utility of regular pack, in which the tomatoes are pressed down tight, is all right for most purposes, but a few whole packed tomatoes come in handy. When chilled and cut in quarters, they add much to tomato aspic and other convalescent salads.

DUPLICATION

An efficiency expert walked into an office and asked the first clerk he met, "What do you do here?" "Nothing," answered the clerk, who was obviously getting tired of efficiency experts.

The efficiency expert nodded, made a note, then asked a second clerk, "And you, what's your job here?"

"I don't do a thing either," "Then-in," said the efficiency expert, "duplication."

Feminine Agents
There are three things a woman can make out of nothing—a hat, a salad and a quarrel.

Absolutely Right
Two children were talking. "Know how to tell a lady worm from a gentleman worm?" one asked.

"Oh, sure," said the other. "You've heard that a worm turns. Well, if it turns without putting out its hand it's a lady worm."

Nearly Always
Duty: "A husband like yours must have been hard to find."

Can't Miss
A friend of ours was advising his younger brother, who had inquired as to the proper way to ask a girl for a date. "Shuck, bud, there just isn't any wrong way!"

Big Difference
Millionaire to beggar: "Be off with you this minute!"

Beggar: "Look here, mister; the only difference between you and me is that you are makin' your second million while I'm still workin' at my first."

Might Be Dreaming
Youth: "Did any one ever tell you how wonderful you are?"

Miss: "No. I don't think anyone ever did."

Youth: "Then I'd like to know where you got the idea."

DOUBLE INDEMNITY
An insurance agent, on a mission, the moment went back to the farm house to compensate the farmer for his loss. "Would two dollars pay for her?" he asked.

"For most of 'em, it would," replied the farmer, "but maybe you'd better make it four dollars. You see, I have a rooster who was mighty fond of that hen and I'm afraid the shock might kill him."

Right Hook-Up
Many a live wire would be a dead one except for his connections.

Cold Idea
Boxer: "Have I done him any damage?"

Disputed Second: "No, but keep swinging, the draft might give him a cold."

False Privilege
Legally, the husband is head of the house and the pedestrian has the right-of-way. Both husband and pedestrian are fairly safe unless they try to exercise their rights.

Sooner or Later
Don't worry about finding your station in life; somebody will be sure to tell you where to get off.

DOUBLE DUTY
The chief constable of a small home town was also the veterinary surgeon. One night the telephone rang and his wife answered.

"Is Mr. Thomas there?" asked an agitated voice.

"Do you want my husband as a veterinarian or as constable?"

"Both," came the breathless reply. "We can't get our bulldog to open his mouth, and there's a burglar in it!"

SEND IT COLLECT
Mama: If this telegram is from one of our relatives, it must be bad news.

Millie: How do you know?

Mama: If it were good news, they'd send it collect.

Boys and Gals
The old man neglected to assist his wife out of the street car.

"John," she said, "you are not so gallant as when you were a boy."

"No," he replied, "and you're not so buxom as when you were a girl, either."
